About the House

Perched on Palma's historic seafront, Calatrava is an intimate, unconventional island home — 16 loft-style rooms and suites opening onto sweeping views of the Mediterranean and Palma Bay. It is a place defined by contrast and coherence: black-and-white photography and terracotta walls; memory and modernity; the stillness of the sea and the quiet hum of the old town.

Bespoke Services

Set and setting do more than frame the stay here — they shape perception. The openness to the horizon, the rhythm of light over water, and the tactile calm of natural materials subtly expand attention. Thought loosens its grip. New associations surface. Ideas begin to connect.

Original wooden beams, local fabrics, and bathrooms crafted with Huguet ceramics ground the experience in Mallorca's material culture. Iconic furniture by Carl Hansen, Vincent Van Duysen, and Living Divani is paired with poetic lighting by Lumine, Santa & Cole, and Oluce — a composition that feels deliberate yet effortless.

Why Calatrava for a Bon Sentiment Retreat or Workation

Calatrava is conceived for private gatherings, presentations, and focused encounters — a rare urban retreat where proximity to culture meets inward calm.

- Horizon thinking: Unparalleled sea views invite perspective, helping teams lift their gaze from immediacy to possibility.
- Cognitive quiet: Warm terracotta tones and restrained design reduce visual noise, allowing concentration to deepen.
- Creative cohesion: With just 16 rooms, groups naturally synchronize — dialogue becomes more honest, decisions more grounded.
- Ritual endings: From the rooftop, each day closes with the island's farewell — space to integrate insight before moving forward.

Here, creativity is not pushed; it's permitted. Inspiration follows presence. And from clarity, change takes shape.

When the environment does less, the mind does more.

Rooms & Suites – Spaces for Focus and Flow

Loft Rooms — 45 sqm

An oasis of calm where tradition meets contemporary design. Natural light and partial sea views evoke coastal serenity, while organic textures and artisanal finishes in soft earth-and-sea tones create a welcoming, focused atmosphere — ideal for reflection and individual work.

Deluxe Rooms — 30–35 sqm

Each room uniquely composed, blending cutting-edge style with heritage. Intimate balconies overlook Palma's old town—a mosaic of rooftops and stories — offering a gentle counterpoint to the inward focus of the retreat.

Sea-View Suites with Terrace — 50–60 sqm | Terrace 8 sqm

Loft-style suites facing the open sea. Terracotta walls, handmade textiles in blues and greens, and a private terrace draw the horizon into the room. A living area and desk provide space for writing, synthesis, and quiet strategy — where inspiration meets intention.

The Essence of Refined Mallorca

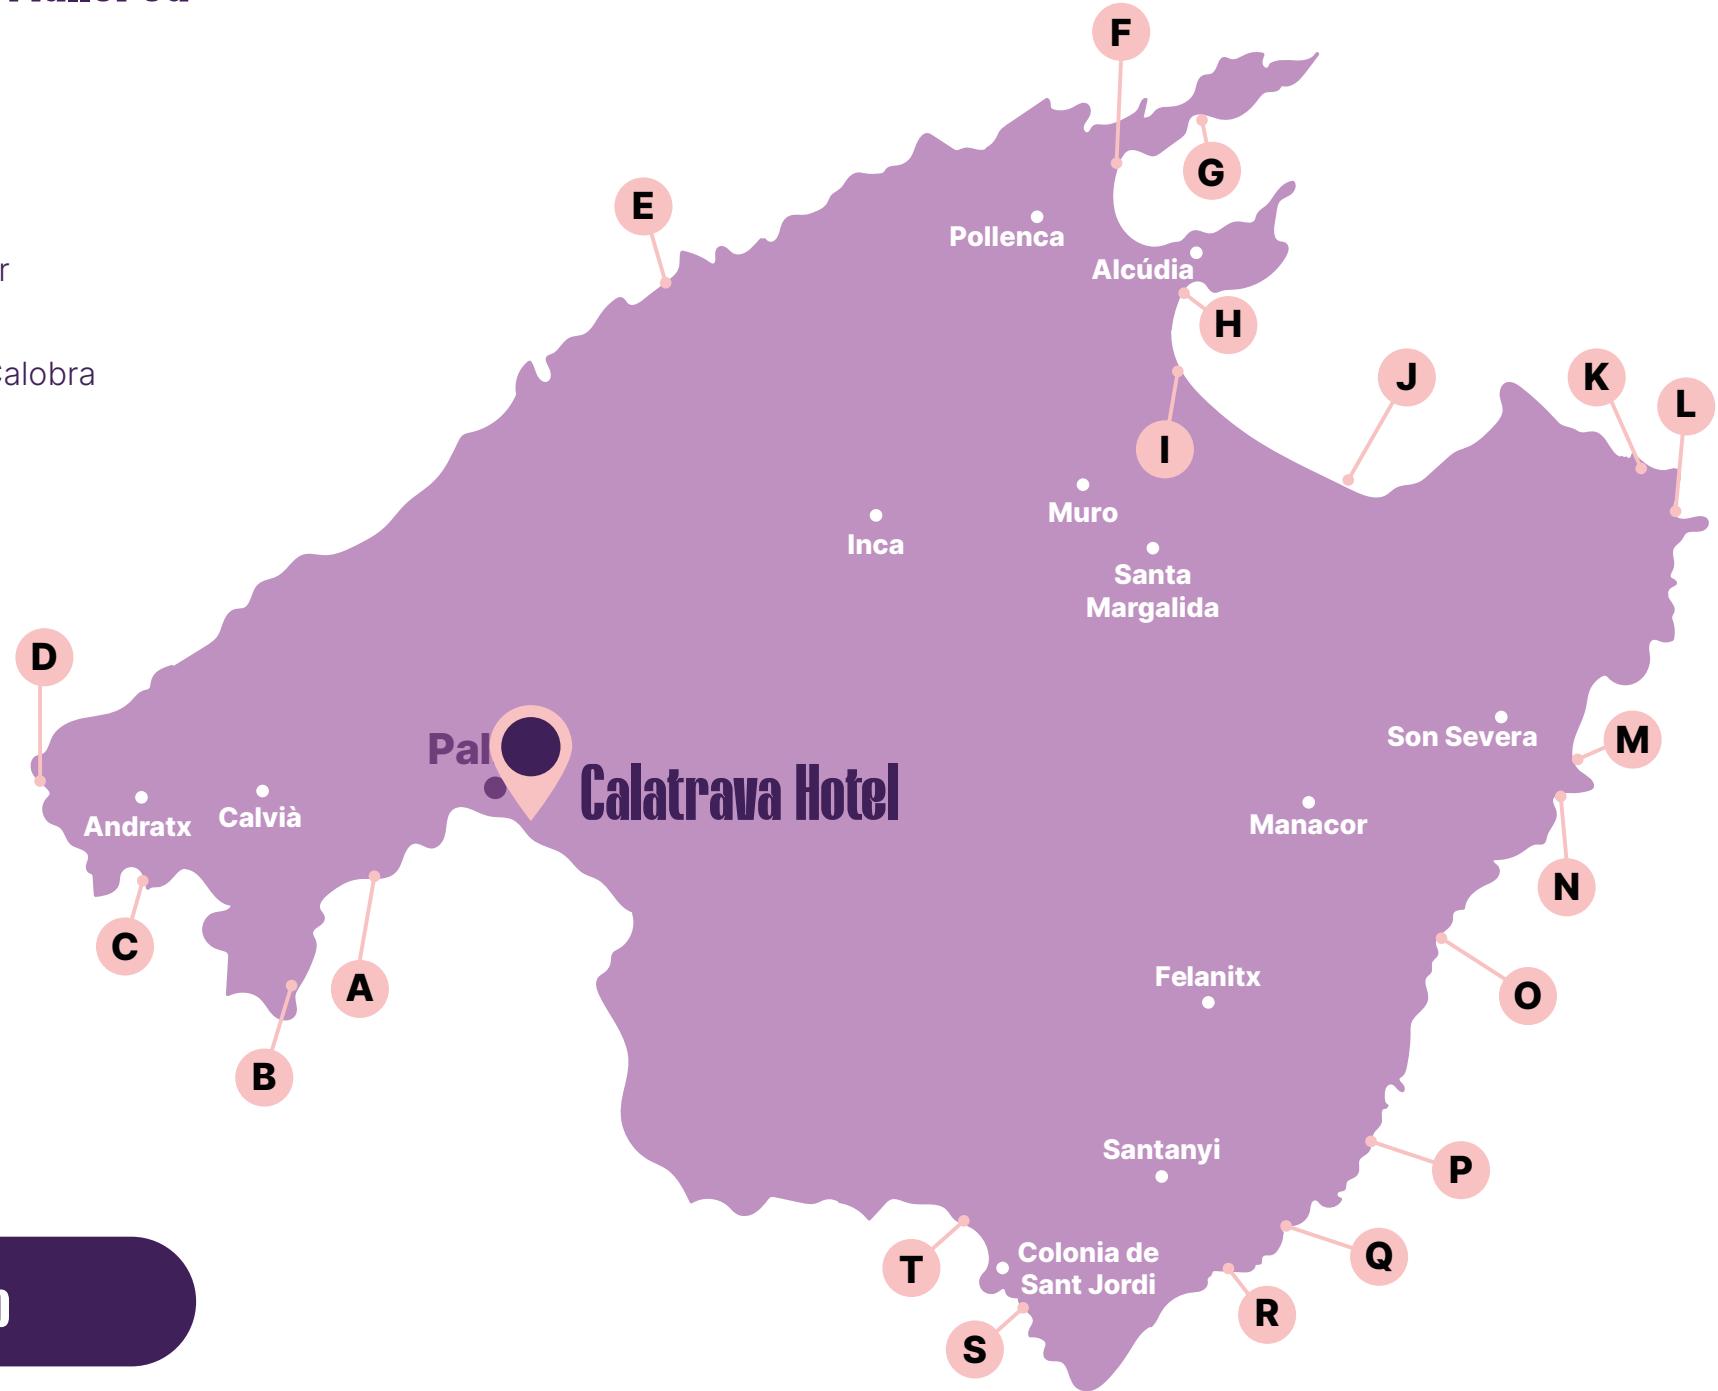

Because when set and setting open the view, thinking widens.

Ideas crystallize.

And change finds its direction — naturally.
