About the House

Set on a generous 1,000 m² plot in the prestigious Bendinat area, this villa occupies a rare position between Mediterranean horizon and manicured golf greens. Elevated and quietly residential, it offers wide views, fresh air, and a sense of openness that carries through every level of the house.

The Spirit of the Place

With approximately 250 m² of living space, the villa accommodates up to six guests across three bedrooms, all designed with clarity, comfort, and privacy in mind. Interiors are light and understated — soft tones, natural daylight, and carefully proportioned rooms that feel relaxed rather than formal.

Large windows and terraces frame both sea and landscape, creating constant visual connection to the surroundings. Inside and outside flow naturally into one another: shaded verandas, open dining areas, and a private pool terrace invite slow mornings, active afternoons, and quiet evenings without agenda.

The atmosphere is residential, not resort-like — ideal for families, friends, or guests who value space, movement, and rhythm over spectacle.

Active Calm – At the Heart of Bendor

One of the villa's defining qualities is its immediate access to everyday infrastructure and sport. Golf, tennis, fitness facilities, supermarkets, and cafés are all within walking distance.

Directly opposite, the Bendor Urban Country Club offers twelve high-quality padel courts — among the best on the island — making this location especially attractive for active stays. The renowned Bendor Golf Club and the marina of Puerto Portals are just a five-minute drive away.

Despite this connectivity, the villa remains sheltered and quiet — a place to return to, recharge, and slow the pace again.

High-speed internet throughout the house ensures seamless remote work or extended stays, without compromising the sense of retreat.
