About the House

Natural and sustainable materials shape the interiors: stone, wood, soft textiles, and light. The result is a home that feels grounded and calm rather than staged — a place where space, light, and silence are given equal importance.

The Spirit of the Place

Set in a privileged residential pocket of Mallorca's southwest, Villa Select is a retreat designed for slowing down. With approximately 350 m² of living space, the villa blends classic Mediterranean proportions with a contemporary architectural language — understated, warm, and intentional.

The villa accommodates up to eight guests and one small child across four generously sized bedrooms, each with its own en-suite bathroom. One bedroom features a king-size bed, while three offer queen-size beds, all conceived as private sanctuaries rather than sleeping spaces alone.

Outside, the garden unfolds like a small oasis. A private swimming pool, shaded areas, and Mediterranean planting create a natural flow between indoors and outdoors — ideal for long mornings, unhurried afternoons, and evenings that stretch without agenda.

Modern comforts are seamlessly integrated: air conditioning, underfloor heating, German television, and up-to-date technical infrastructure — all present, none dominant.

Villa Select is not about spectacle. It's about balance.

The Setting – Santa Ponsa

Santa Ponsa combines proximity with discretion. Beaches, renowned golf courses, excellent restaurants, medical services, and the marinas of Port Adriano and Puerto Portals are all close by — yet the villa itself remains sheltered from noise and movement.

Here, life slows to a Mediterranean tempo: sea air, soft light, and the feeling of being well-placed rather than on display.
